

Watching you get clean it's a really weird thing I know that you're tired I know you're really sleepy I'll buy you Coca-Cola and whatever else you're needing I'm glad you're not pretending I can say "I know, it's tough" but I'll never know the feeling of really giving up after this many years your brains already changed I know you'll never ever be the same don't apologize to me I know it's gonna stink I just wish you actually learned something dope-sick on the couch I knew it wouldn't last Always bring my hopes up just to make me crash

Mind over Matter to cry move
 I feel some here to hard to take a thing
 to me and my empty promises and idle words you're gonna get what you deserve all of your words are without form now I can't love you anymore make me doubt myself till I'm confused downplay what you put me through godspeed to this severance you'll know soon what I meant

Whole New World
 I agreed to share a piece but you swallowed me whole now vengeance lives inside of me and I've gotta let it go to find myself living in a whole new world I'll learn to live within the spaces between breaths I think it's finally time yeah I've earned the right to rest although my heart is heavy I know I'll find myself again
